SwanCap is an independent private equity platform based in Munich with offices in Milan, New York and Luxembourg. SwanCap manages ~€4bn of private equity related investments through both funds and managed accounts.

SwanCap is specialized in the Private Equity buyout segment offering an "integrated investment strategy" to its predominantly institutional investors by combining private equity primary investments, direct co-investments and select direct secondaries.

High caliber institutional investors as well as large family offices from Europe, North America and Asia rely on SwanCap to achieve attractive risk-adjusted returns on their invested capital. Institutional investors include private and public pension plans, insurance companies, public sovereign wealth funds and fund-of-funds. For over 20 years the SwanCap team has specialized in the Private Equity asset class. SwanCap follows an "investment boutique approach" with a deliberate limitation on both the breath of its investor base and the number of parallel funds and mandates in order to avoid allocation conflicts.

Distinct access to attractive and mostly restricted investment opportunities in the buyout segment as well as a deep and institutionalized due diligence process are pivotal to SwanCap's investment approach. The firm's investment philosophy is based on capital preservation and protection with a focus on high quality assets and asset conviction.
